

TWILIGHT IN GRAY

A Railroad Photographer's Album

Volume II

Lowell Amrine

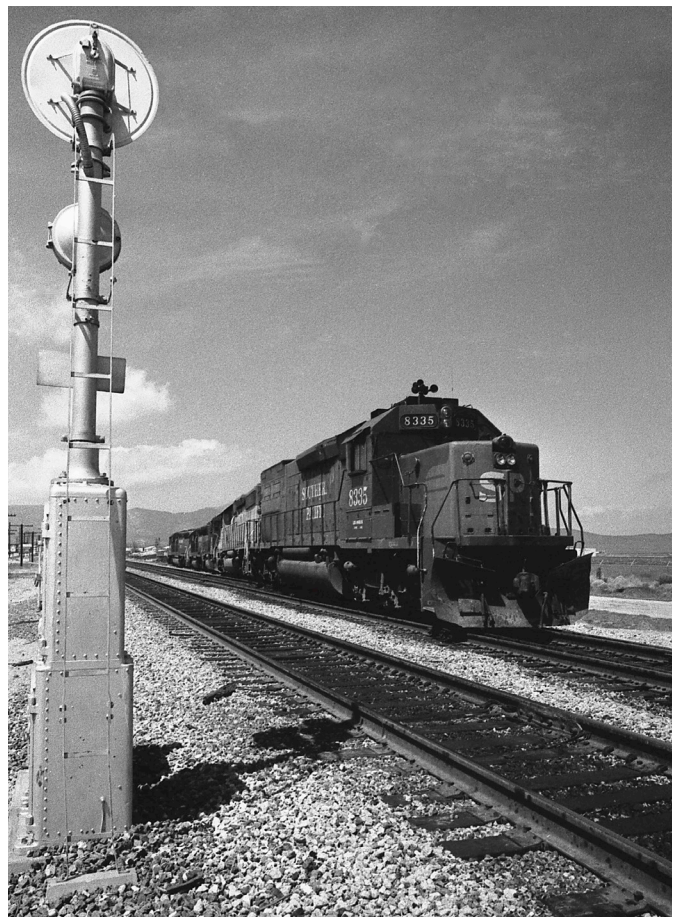

A B30-7 drops into the top of San Timoteo Canyon with westbound trailers, 1981.

Four B30-7s and a lone T-motor lead eastbound trailers out of a crew change at West Colton, 1979.

A four unit helper extricates itself from eastbound tonnage at Summit Switch east of Tehachapi, 1980.

A five unit version has cut-off from a westbound.

An SD40 with a pair of SD45s sit in the small yard at Colfax.

One helper awaits the next eastbound at Loma Linda as a light helper heads east on the main.

The engineer's feet cooling in the mountain air, an eastbound climbs Tehachapi at Woodford, 1981.

An eastbound ascending San Timoteo Canyon meets a westbound between Hinda and Beaumont, 1981.

An eastbound climbs toward Beaumont above Hinda as light help returns westbound to Lome Linda, 1982.

The West Colton engine facility back when power from three builders still populated the service tracks.

The garden tracks at Taylor Shops, Los Angeles.

A company tanker makes an evening visit to West Colton.

